Thought you would like to know –

We were saddened to learn of the passing of:

Dr. Edward Schuh, a former faculty member in our department and received an honorary doctorate from Purdue in 1992.  More information about Dr. Schuh may be found at:
Bob Richardson, MS, 1971. At Purdue Bob won the national M.S. thesis of the year award, played on the rugby club team and charmed everyone with his wit and intelligence. In Australia he began by teaching economics at the University of New England in Armidale. From the UNE he went to the Australian Wool Corporation in charge of setting the world price of wool. From that position, he became managing director of the AWC. In that position he was charged with disposing of an enormous stockpile of wool the government had accumulated. This not only saved millions but made millions. For his service to the country he was made the Australian equivalent of a knight of the realm.

Retiring back to the farm (Ambleside and Westerlie) he was recruited to rebuild the Ag college division of the University of Melbourne. Vocational studies and agricultural education were in a shambles. He had the title of President in that division. From there, he returned with pleasure to the farms, his first love.
