Abstract

Kevin McNamara
Dr. McNamara will talk about the current state of agricultural education in Afghanistan and his efforts as the USDA/USAID Agriculture Advisor to the Afghan Ministry of Higher Education rebuild agriculture and veterinary science programs at Kabul University and regional universities in Afghanistan. The effort focuses on developing capacity within the Afghan system of higher education to direct and manage faculty development, curriculum development, building renovation, and lab, farm and clinic rehabilitation.