Thought you would like to know:

Ag Alumni Homecoming Reunion – Saturday, October 4th, 11 am to 2:30 pm.

Homecoming at Purdue is bigger and better than ever, and the School of Agriculture and the Ag Alumni Association invite you to join us at our reunion tent for food and fellowship before the game --- Purdue vs. Illinois. Agriculture’s tents will be located on the north end of Memorial Mall, convenient to parking in the Marsteller Garage as well as to the other events and activities, and an easy walk to the stadium. We’ll have displays, free popcorn and opportunities to win great door prizes. The meal features a hog roast. For more information call 765-494-8593 or email lesterd@purdue.edu.

John Connor was appointed to the Advisory Board of the American Antitrust Institute.

The Center for Food and Agricultural Business was selected by USDA to conduct worldwide marketing training for their staff of foreign service nationals (USDA employees who are citizens of the country in which the USDA post is located, and whose jobs focus on promoting US food and agriculture products into that foreign market.)

Travel, Speeches and Presented Papers:

Mariah Tanner Ehmke received a USDA travel grant this summer and studied in France,
The Netherlands, Denmark, Germany and England.

Wallace Tyner attended the International Agricultural Economics Association meetings in Durbin, South Africa, August 16-23.

John Sanders and Tahirou Abdoulaye traveled to Senegal and Mali from June 16 – July 20 working with EWA-PADER and SG2000 to evaluate income effects of marketing strategies aimed at hastening diffusion of new technologies and increasing millet and sorghum prices received by farmers. We are implementing a three part marketing strategy involving farmers selling later during the year to avoid the post harvest price collapse (inventory credit), a quality premium, and developing new markets to moderate the between year price collapse in good rainfall years.

John M. Connor, “Private International Cartels: Resurgence and Deterrence”, opening keynote address, First Workshop of the Research Training Network “Competition Policy in International Markets”, at the Universite des Sciences Sociales de Toulouse, Toulouse,
